Vol. XIX, No. 13

PUBLISHED WEEKLY — PORTERVILLE, CALIFORNIA

Thursday, September 9, 1965

TO BE dedicated Sunday, September 19, is the Chapel of the Lambs at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Home of the West at Terra Bella. The building includes educational facilities in addition to the chapel. Also to be dedicated is the fourth dwelling unit at the Good Shepherd Home, dedicated to the care of mentally retarded children. Special music will be provided during the dedication ceremony, and speaker will be Dr. Carl H. Bensene, president, northwest district, Lutheran church, Missouri Synod. (Farm Tribune photo)

SHRINERS WILL BE AT HOMECOMING

PORTERVILLE, September 9 — Tehran Temple's Legion of Honor in Fresno has accepted an invitation to again appear in Porterville's traditional Homecoming parade on November 11, with some 200 Shriners expected to march.

Jack Damron, Legion of Honor commander, accepted an invitation from the 1965 Homecoming parade committee to participate; the group was a highlight attraction in the 1963 parade.

Parade theme ideas are being received by the Veterans' committee that sponsors the annual Homecoming, with tomorrow evening, Friday, set as the deadline for a theme selection contest now underway.

Following a committee meeting Monday night, parade theme will be announced and official entry forms will be mailed throughout the San Joaquin valley. Parade secretary is Hazel Lofton.

A full day and evening of entertainment is being planned for the November 11 Veterans' Homecoming celebration, directed this year

VARIED PROGRAM FOR FAIR

TULARE, Sept. 9 — A varied program of entertainment, plus competitive exhibits of some of the West's finest junior and senior division livestock, is scheduled for the 44th annual Tulare County fair that opens September 21 under a new manager, A. C. Slinde.

As in the past, competition is expected to be tough in the community exhibits division of the fair, with the Porterville exhibit this year in charge of the Junior chamber of commerce.

Porterville Future Farmers, along with 4-H club members from throughout southeastern Tulare county, are putting the final touches on livestock, with judging in all junior livestock departments to start at 9 a.m., on opening day.

Home economics divisions for 4-H girls; commercial and machinery exhibits; photo section; and flower section will be other highlights of the fair.

Featured entertainment will include: Dairy Fiesta parade in

Steam Thrashing Bee Is A Dandy

GERBER, Sept. 9 — Time turned back more than a half century over the past weekend when G. A. Humann staged California's only steam thrashing bee at his ranch south of Gerber, with volunteers feeding wheat shocks into stationary threshers powered by steam tractors.

And this same wheat was ground into flour, and sacked, just as it was in the "good old days."

Giant steam tractors were fired up and operating — tractors that have been collected and restored by Humann and his son Paul, "so that the old may remember, and the young learn about the machines that were modern in their day."

Prepared prior to the thrashing bee were 5,000 bundles of wheat, shocked with a John Deere, ground-powered binder; an old Case water wagon supplied the field hands and the steam equipment; a stationary straw baler, powered by a team of mules walking in an endless circle, was in operation, and

Poplar Tonight

POPLAR, Sept. 9 — All roads lead to Poplar tonight, as the chamber of commerce stages its eighth annual Western barbecue at the Tule River Youth Center. Menu will feature barbecued beef; master of ceremonies for evening program will be Judge George Carter; proceeds go toward the youth activity program in the Poplar community. Serving will start at 6 p.m.

EVENTS LISTED FOR JUNIOR RODEO OCT. 3

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 9 — Junior edition cowboys — and cowgirls — will hit the leather October 3 at the Rocky Hill arena in the Orange Belt Saddle club's annual Junior Rodeo, with Ray Taylor, general chairman, stating that the following events will be included:

Barrel Racing, age classes for 6-12 years and 13-16 years; calf riding, 6-12 years; steer riding, 13-16 years; pole bending, 6-12 and 13-16; ribbon roping and team roping, one class for all contestants, with age limit 16 years; and calf roping, 13-16 years.

SECOND PLACE for exhibits featuring citrus went to Tulare county at the California State fair that is now in progress, with photos showing a general view of the county exhibit and three sections of the exhibit that is built around Tulare county citrus — including growing orange trees. At lower right is Wayne Robertson, manager of the Tulare county chamber of commerce, with Gale Scott, of Sacramento, showing off the trophy and plaque won by the county. Miss Scott is one of the attendants at the exhibit.

PITCHING SHOCKS of wheat into a stationary thresher is none other than Porterville's

Al Hilton, (that's him with the straw hat) with power for the thresher coming from a 1908 steam-driven Advance tractor, manufactured at Battle Creek, Michigan. It happened over the weekend when Hilton, and Bill Rodgers, journeyed to Gerber, California, where G. A. Humann was holding his annual two-day steam threshing bee. Hilton worked on this kind of outfit more than a half century ago, and he proved that he could still do the job - well at least for two or three minutes. Rodgers. Oh yes. He was taking pictures. Pitchforks don't fit his hands. (Farm Tribune photos)

BELOW, top, a 1932 John Deere, ground-powered binder, with self-tying knoter; a Case

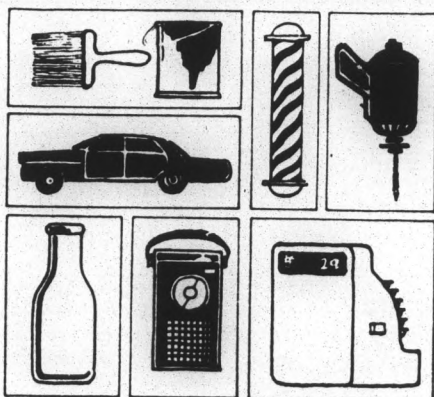

water wagon, and lower, working steam models; Charles Banta, of Opportunity, Wash.,

with a thresher, and Jim Baker, of Palo Alto, with a Case steam tractor. Baker is associated with Hiller helicopters, and is a friend of Jim Meade, in Porterville. (Farm Tribune photos)

How your New York Life Agent can help you mind your own business

no matter what it is!

Are you the owner of an independent business? Partner or president of a corporation? Whether you're a man who employs people — or one of many employees yourself — New York Life Insurance can help you enjoy greater financial security.

For example, more and more forward-looking companies provide some form of group insurance — to give employees added peace of mind, to help make the company a more desirable place to work.

At the management level, special life insurance plans can attract and hold promising executives, or help a company pull through financially if a key man dies. In the case of partnerships or close corporations, a buy-sell agreement, funded through New York Life insurance, may even be the means of economic survival.

Your New York Life Agent has been specially trained to serve the needs of businesses as well as families. In addition to his knowledge and experience, he offers a varied portfolio of life insurance plans. If you're the head of a household, the head of a business (or both), your New York Life Agent is a very good man to know.

NO ELEMENT OF CHANCE

"Calculated risk" seems to be a popular phrase for old-fashioned "gamble." But there's no place for either in preparing or dispensing pharmaceuticals.

Ever notice the letters U.S.P. or N.F. on a medicine label? The letters represent two official books that are recognized by federal law — the United States Pharmacopoeia and the National Formulary.

Together, they are the pharmacist's "bible." They give approved standards of the quality, purity, and potency of most medicinal agents.

Whatever your prescription calls for, we are prepared to fill it.

Our Town

By RUTH LOYD

Here we go! Another school year started. I must get a new calendar. I wonder if I would roar at a Lion if they would sell me one of theirs. Mothers and children with packages in their arms going from store to store. If the child takes a delicious home-made lunch to school, a new lunch box is a must. Mothers who make lunches with imagination and put them in cute lunch boxes always seem to me to be a little special. The children are always so eager to open their boxes to find the surprise mother has tucked in, and usually share it with their neighbor. Lucky children. They always seem to be so loved.

Lucky West Putnam school. Mel Price is to be its principal. Some teachers are looking forward to having certain principals rummage through their waste baskets and desks and listen on the intercom trying to catch the teacher taking a nap or something. Fat chance. With Mel you don't need to worry. If he wants to know, He'll ask you, not your neighbor.

On the best seller list is an interesting book called, "Up the Down Staircase" Of course it is a wee bit shocking in places and might disturb some people, but I thought it was delightful. I don't shock easily, and I was a teacher. This combination made me enjoy the book. Don't let the youngsters read it though. They would really understand it.

People of OUR TOWN who have house boats or a commercial facsimile really live the life out on OUR LAKE. Jim Fairchild was the captain of a wonderful cruise we took the other night. Frances was a delightful hostess. What fun when Pat and Betty Statler and George and Betty Belt tied alongside. There was much climbing back and forth from vessel to vessel while we all watched in awe as Walt De Paul did swan dives from the upper deck. The big show off. Some of the ladies would have liked to show Walt up.

Thank you for paying your electric bill so promptly.

For taxes

For employees

For investors

For fuel & purchased power

For new construction

For interest

For material, supplies and other costs

We divide it with a lot of people.

The list is long.

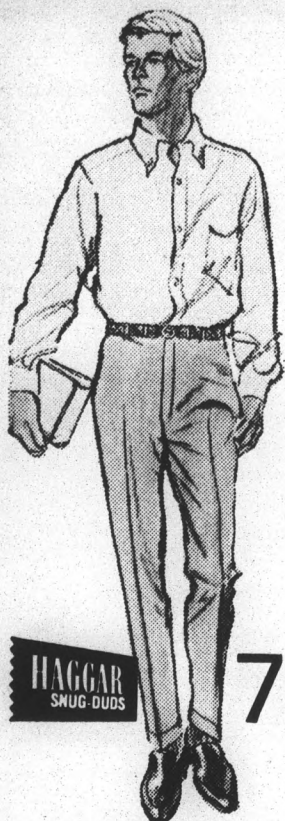

The money you pay Edison goes to 10,000 employees, more than 150,000 investors and to hundreds of suppliers who help us provide electricity for 6.5 million people.

But notice that taxes take the largest portion.

Federal, state and local governments sent us tax bills for last year totalling $102.4 million. Of course, a large portion goes to the community. Taxes pay for schools, libraries, fire and police protection, many other services. So, you see, a lot of people have you to thank for paying your electric bill so promptly.

but one look at the black moonlit water from top side did the trick. Walt retired in a wave of glory. Eve Goodman was getting sleepy about this time, and she couldn't find Van. Van was deep in conversation with Frank Lovett. I don't know what they found to talk about. Ida De Paul was showing Connie Price the mysteries of the trap door. Vaughn and Vic Bowker have been around the world a few times, but nothing prepared them for this voyage. Vaughn thought she was going to China the hard way when Connie played captain. Many were the conversations discussing the merits of house boats. Me, I go for the house boats. My age has something to do with it.

I do hope Walt Disney gets the contract for Mineral King. I feel as if I could trust him to make the most of the wonderful natural beauty without resorting to commercial greed. All of a sudden Mineral King seems very precious when I think of thousands of tourists going up there. Take a drive

LASSIE, OF television fame, was not at the Mineral King development bid opening, last week, but a couple of her good friends were. At right is Vernon Clark, one of the script writers for the Lassie show; at left is Edwin Gregg, technical advisor for the show in matters relating to the Forest Service. Gregg is a former district ranger who worked in the Sierra forest with Lawrence Whitfield, now supervisor of the Sequoia National Forest. Since the Lassie show centers around the Forest Service, Gregg's job is to see that the Forest Service is presented in a reasonable way, although he admits that no forest ranger in the field ever led the life depicted in the Lassie scripts. He and Clark happened to be in the area looking over the Forest Service operation.

up there before the bulldozers take their bite. Mineral King is the wonderful beauty of nature at its best.

Rita Green and I were discussing the different ways to make dips when we met Pat Wells and Syl Raney. Syl had a bruised shoulder, and was very proud of it. Dove hunting is awful hard on shoulders. I'll bet she's a good hunter. I have a bruised cheek. Whenever a dove flies by I am so excited I can't remember which eye to use and wham somehow my cheek gets in the way. I got my limit tho. Not the State's limit, My limit. I don't go for kids and guns as a rule. They shoot so much play stuff they don't know when they have the real thing in their hands. I take it all back now. Jim Starks and Donald Hardaway had made themselves a blind of tumble weeds and all the men crouched along the fence looked on in envy while Jim and Don happily shot all the birds. No trouble at all. Both boys treated guns with respect and are wonderful shots. Some of the men around could have taken a good lesson in sportsmanship.

The wife of one of the nearby ranchers called us big city so-and-so's. I really don't blame her. It must be an awful bother having all that noise, and shot falling on your house. Some people do take advantage and leave an awful mess. We had been invited to hunt so I didn't feel so bad.

The campers and trailers and loaded station wagons coming to the lake last weekend were one solid stream. After they had hit the bit of road between Ducor and Terra Bella they knew they had really had an experience. That little bit of roller coaster road makes freeways look simple.

Judie Barnhart doesn't want OUR TOWN to be cluttered with empty store windows. The empty window next to her store is always full of interesting merchandise. It looks so much nicer. Do you have an empty window next to you? What a pity.

Did you read about the little ten year old girl in Sierraville? She is a weekly columnist. She received $16.50 one month for her columns. Lucky little girl.

(Ed. Note: Dear Ruth. This little girl isn't lucky. Her column is probably worth it.)

LEGAL NOTICE

PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT No. 31971

THIS AGREEMENT entered into this 13th day of August, 1965, by and between NANCY C. JOHNSON, hereinafter referred to as "JOHNSON", residing at 1010 Harvard Avenue, Claremont, California, and LUIS SHAN KING, hereinafter referred to as "KING", residing at 75 York Street, Porterville, California. The parties to this agreement desire to establish hereby the terms of a partnership between them and therefore agree upon the following terms, covenants and conditions:

1. NAME

The firm name of this partnership shall be:

JOHNSON & KING,
A Co-partnership

Upon the execution of this agreement or as soon thereafter as may be determined by the partners, the partnership shall sign and cause to be filed and published in the County of Tulare, State of California, a certificate of fictitious name setting forth the names and residences of each partner as required by Section 2466 of the Civil Code. Pursuant thereto, a statement signed, acknowledged and verified by the partners shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of said county, setting forth the name of the partnership and the names of each partner and further stating that the above-named partners are all of the partners.

2. PLACE OF BUSINESS

The principal place of business shall be Pine Flat, Tulare County, California.

3. PURPOSE OF BUSINESS

The partnership shall engage in the business of owning, grazing and ranch lands and timber lands.

4. TERM OF PARTNERSHIP

The partnership shall continue until such time as shall be agreed upon by the partners to be a termination date of the partnership or until ninety (90) days after one of the partners shall have given written notice to the other partner of his desire to dissolve the partnership or until dissolved under other provisions of this agreement.

5. ACCOUNTING METHOD

The partnership shall keep accounting records and shall report its income for income tax purposes on a cash basis.

LEGAL NOTICE

6. CAPITAL CONTRIBUTIONS

The initial capital contribution of the partnership shall consist of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) of which one-half shall be contributed by each of the partners. The capital interest of the partners shall consist of the capital so invested and the partners' capital contribution shall be accepted as fully paid and contributed as of the date of this agreement.

7. CAPITAL AND DRAWING ACCOUNTS

(a) An individual capital account shall be maintained for each partner. The capital contributions of each partner shall remain equal and if there is any inequality in the respective capital accounts an adjustment shall be made to equalize the same. The capital of each partner in the firm shall consist of the original contribution of capital increased by (1) additional capital contributions, and (2) any credit balances transferred from his drawing account to his capital account, and decreased by (a) distributions and reductions of partnership capital and (b) his share of partnership losses, if charged to the capital accounts of the partners. Except by agreement of the partners or on dissolution, the capital contributions of the partners shall not be subject to withdrawal. Any additional amounts of capital required to be contributed to the business shall be contributed by the partners in equal shares upon agreement of the partners.

(b) An individual drawing account shall be maintained for each partner. All withdrawals by a partner shall be charged to his drawing account. Unless otherwise agreed, withdrawals shall be made in equal amounts by all partners and any withdrawals during the year shall be limited to such amounts as the partners shall determine from time to time. Each partner's share of any partnership net loss shall be charged to his drawing account unless the partners agree to charge such loss to the capital accounts of the partners. Each partner's share of partnership profits shall be credited to his drawing account. The partners may determine to transfer to partnership capital all or any portion of the credit balance in the respective drawing accounts of the partners, provided that the amounts thus transferred shall be in equal proportions.

(c) A credit balance in a partner's drawing account shall constitute a liability of the partnership to that partner; it shall constitute a part of that partner's interest in the capital of the partnership. A debit balance in a partner's drawing account, whether occasioned by drawings in excess of his share of partnership profits or by charging him for his share of partnership loss, shall constitute an obligation of that partner to the partnership, and shall not reduce his interest in the capital of the partnership.

8. PROFITS

(a) Net profits or losses of the partnership shall be credited or charged to the partners in the following ratios:

JOHNSON 50%
KING 50%

(b) The net profits or net losses of the partnership shall be determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles as soon as practical after the close of the accounting year. Each partner's share of the net profit or net loss shall be credited or charged to his individual drawing account.

(c) In determining the net profits or net losses of the partnership for any accounting period the deductions from gross income of the partnership shall include: Disbursements made by or on behalf of the partnership for the usual and customary expenses of conducting the business, taxes chargeable to the partnership as such and paid by it, adequate reserves for taxes accrued or levied but not yet payable, interest on all interest bearing loans, salaries paid to employees, adequate reserves for depreciation and for contingencies (including bad accounts), proper allowances for all liabilities accruing, and also any and all other expenses of the partnership during such accounting period incidental to the conduct of the business, except payments to partners on account of drawings.

9. MANAGEMENT, DUTIES AND RESTRICTIONS

(a) Each partner shall have an equal voice in the management of the partnership business.

(b) The partners shall devote as nearly as possible equal time to the partnership business and shall receive a salary in such monthly sums as shall be from time to time determined by the partners.

(c) Separate bank account shall be established in the United California Bank of Visalia, California, or in such other bank or banks as the partners may from time to time select. The signature of both partners shall be required to draw funds from the partnership bank account. The capital of the partnership and all other monies thereof shall be deposited in the name of the partnership in the said bank account.

(d) No partner, without the consent of the other, shall:

(1) Borrow or lend money on behalf of the partnership;

(2) Execute in the partnership name any mortgage, bond or lease, or hypothecate, pledge or assign any asset belonging to the firm;

(3) Assign, transfer or pledge any debts due the partnership or release any such debts that are due except upon payment in full;

(4) Compromise or release any claim due to the partnership, submit to arbitration any disputed controversy involving the partnership or confess any judgment against the partnership;

(5) Sell, assign, pledge or mortgage his interest in the partnership;

(6) Employ any person or discharge any employee (except under circumstances where the consent or disapproval of the other partner cannot be obtained with reasonable promptness);

(7) Make any assignment for the benefit of creditors;

(8) Admit any other person as a partner in the firm;

(9) Have power to incur an obligation on behalf of the partnership in excess of $250.00 without written consent of the other partner.

10. DISSOLUTION BY DEATH

Upon the death of any partner, the remaining partner shall have the right to buy out the deceased partner's interest for a price which shall be determined annually by agreement of the parties at the first meeting after the commencement of each partnership fiscal year. In the event that the partners fail in any year to determine the said price, then the price determined for the preceding year shall remain in full force and effect.

In the event that the death is not covered by insurance as set forth in Paragraph 14, the remaining partner may execute a personal note for said purchase price. The terms of this note shall state a maximum term of five years at six and one-half per cent annual interest.

In the event of the death of a partner, and only in this event, his heirs shall be entitled to receive, in addition to the payments provided for above, annually at the time of audit, a percentage of the net profits before taxes received from the sale of any of the assets, either improved or unimproved, belonging to the partnership at the time of the said partner's death. This percentage shall also be determined annually at the time the partnership interest value is determined.

11. RETIREMENT OF A PARTNER

Either partner shall have the right to retire from the partnership effective upon ninety (90) days' written notice to the other partner of his intention to retire. Waiver of this notice may be affected by approval of the other partner, thus permitting a partner to retire upon less than (90) days' written notice. Upon receiving such notice of retirement the remaining partner shall have the option to dissolve and liquidate the firm or to continue the business. Such option must be exercised within forty-five (45) days after receipt of notice of intention to retire. If the remaining partner elects to dissolve the firm and liquidate the business, the retiring partner shall be entitled to participate actively in the liquidation and winding up of the business if he so elects. In the event of the continuation of the business the value of the retiring partner's interest shall be determined as indicated by Paragraph 10 hereof.

LEGAL NOTICE

12. OTHER CAUSES OF DISSOLUTION

(a) Either partner shall have the right to require the other partner to retire from the firm in the event of the filing of a petition in bankruptcy with respect to the other partner, or an adjudication of insanity or incompetency of the other partner in any judicial proceeding, or the commitment of the other partner to a mental institution, or the issuance of a charging order against the interest of said partner without the immediate removal thereof. Service of written notice upon such partner setting forth the effective date of such mandatory retirement shall terminate all powers of said partner as of said effective date, and shall further terminate his right to share in the profits or draw a salary thereafter. In the event of termination of such interest, the remaining partner shall have the option to dissolve and liquidate the firm or to continue the business, as is provided in Paragraph 11.

(b) In the event of termination of the partnership under this paragraph, the remaining partner shall have the option to acquire the interest of the retiring partner and to continue the business without interruption thereof, or in lieu thereof to cause the affairs of the business to be wound up, its assets to be disposed of, and its debts to be paid. Notice of intention to exercise the option to purchase the interest of the retiring partner must be given at the same time as the termination notice prescribed herein, and failure to give such notice at this time shall constitute a waiver and shall be deemed an election to dissolve and liquidate the partnership.

(c) In the event that the remaining partner elects to continue the business, the value of the retiring partner's interest shall be determined and paid for in the same manner as is prescribed in Paragraph 10 hereof.

13. VOLUNTARY DISSOLUTION BY WRITTEN AGREEMENT

Upon the agreement of the partners, the partnership may be dissolved and the assets liquidated forthwith according to the terms of any written dissolution agreement entered into by all parties.

14. INSURANCE

The partners hereby agree that each partner shall purchase an accident insurance policy in the face value of not less than the purchase price of the other partner's interest as determined under Paragraph 10 of this agreement, such policy to be upon the life of the other partner. The proceeds of the said policy shall be payable to the partner purchasing the policy. It is understood and agreed between the partners that upon the death of either partner, the proceeds of the insurance policy payable to the remaining partner as a result of the death of the said deceased partner shall be held by the surviving partner and used to pay the heirs or successors in interest of the deceased partner as that interest shall be determined in Paragraph 10 hereof. All of the proceeds of the policy shall be paid to the heirs or successors in interest of the deceased partner by the surviving partner and upon receipt of the payment of the total proceeds of the insurance policy the said heirs or successors in interest shall cease to have any further interest in the assets of the partnership except for the right to the annual payment provided for in Paragraph 10.

15. AMENDMENT OF PARTNERSHIP ARTICLES

These articles may be amended by an agreement of the partners at any time during the continuance of the partnership. The agreement may be amended or modified in whole or in part but any such modification or amendment shall be in writing and signed by the partners. Any amendment or modification of this agreement shall be dated and where any conflict arises between the provisions of said amendment or modification and provisions incorporated in earlier documents, the most recent provision shall be controlling. It shall not be necessary to revise the entire partnership agreement where only minor changes are affected and alteration shall be permitted either on the face of this instrument, by way of addendum, or in any entirely new document, providing only that such alteration shall be dated and the signatures of the partners shall appear in reasonable proximity to such alteration. If it shall be desired by the partners that the term of the partnership be extended to a date certain then it shall be sufficient that the partners

LEGAL NOTICE

16. PARTNERSHIP BOOKS - RIGHT TO INSPECT

The partnership shall keep adequate books and records at its place of business, setting forth the true and accurate account of all business transactions arising out of or connected with the conduct of the partnership. Each partner shall have the right at all times to have access to and to inspect and copy any part of the partnership books and records.

17. ARBITRATION OF DISPUTES

In the event of any controversy or claim arising out of this Partnership agreement cannot be settled by the partners or their legal representatives, such controversy or claim shall be settled by arbitration in accordance with the then current rules of the American Arbitration Association, and judgment upon the award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction thereof.

18. MISCELLANEOUS

The provisions of this agreement shall be binding upon and shall inure to the benefit of the parties hereto, their heirs, executors, administrators, and successors in interest. In this agreement, whenever the context so requires, the masculine gender includes the feminine and/or neuter, and the singular number includes the plural. This agreement shall be construed according to the laws of the State of California.

It is possible to get a fair bit of yard work done now while the weather is still on your side. Not only that but with the kids in school and the couch warmer out hunting you should have some uninterrupted time. This will allow you to get some bulbs planted, sow the bare spots, or scatter rye seed for a green winter lawn.

Fall planting has other advantages in that it is certain to get wetter and cooler. Therefore any plants you plant, and then forget, will probably survive until spring. By then you will be recharged with ambition and able to get them more firmly established. This is especially true of shrubs and trees which grow roots all winter in spite of frost, ice, or blizzard.

One thing you must remember is to get through gardening in time to beat the tired hunter to the couch. This requires a certain amount of dexterity and may require locking the back door so he is forced to journey around to the front. If instead you have the inside, TV watching type, you may have to blow a fuse with the hedge trimmer or overload the circuit with a couple of waffle irons. In any case we wish you luck and hope you'll drop by on "E" Street North of Olive for some fall gardening ideas.

through the central part of California and take a look at what's going on.

FROM PORTERVILLE to Red Bluff, the pattern is the same: New shopping centers in many of the old towns; new subdivisions occupied and under construction; billboard ads for new industry, including one elaborate sign for an industrial park that so far consists of nothing but a big, big grain field; heavy equipment turning dry-farmed land into irrigated land; more heavy equipment working on new roads and highways; too much traffic for not enough roads; trailers, campers and boats going in all directions; historical exhibits in the form of museums, antique shops, roadside displays — and old unoccupied buildings in city business districts; new freeways that seem to have cut through the most unattractive part of a community, and it's still the most unattractive part of the community; consolidated service club and community organization signs at the entrance to most cities; new schools, churches and public buildings along the way; roadside stands featuring the produce of the area; motels and restaurants — new ones — pushing each other for desirable space.

AS YOU ride along you can visualize chambers of commerce and city councils and boards of supervisors talking about the same problems and dreaming the same dreams as we talk and dream about in Porterville, and in Tulare county. And you can visualize the same brochures aimed at new industry and the tourist dollar, and the same planners trying to modernize cities so they will look like every other city.

NO TOWN like the home town? Of course not. But every town is someone's home town — a lot of someone's — and the pattern of expansion and change is evident in most of those home towns. What we call progress is riding at a gallop through the great valleys of Central California.

AND WHEN you see thousands on thousands of acres of land that is being used at far less than its potential, you get to thinking that if sufficient water was available to all of this land, and if farmers were turned loose to produce without restrictions, California could just about feed the world.

More persons between the ages of one year and 35 years die as a result of highway accidents than from any other cause.

About 71,000 public and non-profit private schools in America will participate this year in the National Lunch program.

IT'S OFFICIAL now. Mayor Aubrey M. Lumley, and Peg

Cole, chairman of the Porterville City Park commission, light the first fire in one of the barbecue pits included in the new pavilion in Murry park. The pavilion, with tables and roofed area for picnics, plus the barbecue pits, was dedicated last Thursday and is now available for use by family groups and organizations. (Farm Tribune photo)

DUFFY NAMED TO STATE COMMITTEE

HANFORD, Sept. 9—Assemblyman Gordon Duffy, who represents Tulare and Kings counties in the state legislature, has been appointed to the joint committee on higher education. Five Assemblymen and five Senators on the committee will make an interim study of higher education in California.

JACK C. THOMAS, Porterville, was honored by Southern California Edison company, recently, on his 25th anniversary with the electric utility. Thomas, who is employed as customer service consultant in Porterville, was presented a diamond pin commemorating the occasion. Thomas, was born in Reed Springs, Missouri, and educated at Visalia Union High school, joined the company in 1940 as a mail driver, worked as meter reader and rate accountant at Visalia. He was promoted to power consultant at Hanford in 1952, then transferred to Porterville the following year. He is a member of the Elks Lodge, and is a director of the Tulare County Power Boat club. He is also active in bowling and is a member of the house committee on rules and procedures at the local lanes. (Farm Tribune photo)

LOST YMCA BOY NOT FROM PORTERVILLE

PORTERVILLE, Sept. 9 — Several inquiries have been received by the Porterville YMCA regarding a recent news story concerning Donald Gavazza, 11 years old, who became separated from his YMCA camping group August 21, and received funds from San Francisco police department communications officers for bus transportation to his grandmother in Porterville, Mrs. Ruby Gavazza, 636 E. Sycamore.

Robert Bray, Porterville YMCA Committee chairman, advises that the boy resides with his parents in San Bernardino and is a member of a San Bernardino YMCA group which was enroute to Lake Tahoe for a camping expedition.

Upon arriving penniless in San Francisco, Donald was advanced travel funds by policemen, who were later reimbursed by his grandmother.

Members of the Porterville YMCA unit attend YMCA Camp Tulequoia in the nearby Sierra, according to Bray.

PARKER SPEAKS AT SPRINGVILLE

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 9 — Wayne Parker spoke on "Wild Life Conservation" at Tuesday's potluck dinner meeting of the Springville Farm Center held in the Memorial hall.

Nearly a million Californians annually go trout fishing.

Prospects nationally for fall pig crop are for farrowings to be down eight per cent compared to last year.

RECENT PROMOTIONS in the Coberly & Plumb organization have moved Wayne Collins, left, from fieldman to district manager of the agricultural chemical firm in Tulare county, and Charles E. Dofflemyer, right, from district manager to general sales manager of Coberly & Plumb-Petrolane. Collins will have his office in Visalia; Dofflemyer will travel through the counties of Kings, Kern and Tulare developing the marketing area, evaluating and introducing new products, and conducting training in sales techniques.

SO. CAL. GAS PURCHASES RUN $21.5 MILLION

VISALIA, Sept. 9 — Southern California Gas company purchased over $1.5 million in materials during the fiscal year ending in 1965 from 2,339 firms mostly in California. Repeat orders from previous years were placed with 514 businesses, 299 of which are classified as small businesses with less than 200 employees. Purchasing agent, Monte Vinyard, stated that most of the budget was spent here in California because "material necessary to the natural gas industry are available at reasonable cost."

Steam Threshing Bee Is A Dandy

ancient gasoline tractors and old cars were on display.

The ringing blast of steam whistles, the throbbing beat of steam engines, the long, crossed belt from engine to dusty thresher, and golden wheat pouring out of the chute provided a marked contrast to the modern, one-man, air-conditioned-cab harvesters that travel the grain fields today.

by Co-chairman John Garay, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and Herman Eulert, American Legion.

Assisting are post commanders, Ed. Flory, of the Legion, and Bob Reyes, of the VFW.

Other committee heads appointed by the general chairmen include: Ralph Vopat, Legion, and Louis Ramos, VFW, parade; L. L. Smithpeters, VFW, and Herb Short, Legion, dance; and Gene Quiram, VFW, queen selection.

Celebration committee secretary is Hughe Williams.

A multiple prize list is again being assembled under direction of Flory, who states that 10 prizes will be given away during the celebration. A color television set will top the list.

Not only veterans, but anyone with ideas concerning the Homecoming celebration is invited to attend committee meetings; next meeting is set for Monday, September 13, at the American Legion hall in Porterville, at 8 p.m.

FAIR PROGRAM

downtown Tulare at 10 a.m., September 21, followed in the evening by the fair's annual horse show in front of the main grandstand.

Pioneers will be honored on the second day, with former fair manager, Alfred J. Elliott, who retired this year, to be guest of honor and featured speaker. Second section of the horse show is slated for the evening, also a free square dance jamboree.

Third day of the fair is Grange day; Kiwanians will also take the spotlight at noon with a Golden Anniversary luncheon. Evening speaker at a Grange dinner will be J. Blaine Quinn, California State Grange Master. Free fireworks, a million dollar livestock parade and dancing highlight evening entertainment.

Fourth day feature is a destruction derby at the grandstand, sponsored by the Tulare Lodge of Elks.

Junior fat stock auction, starting at 9 a.m., is slated for the fair's fifth day, Saturday, September 25. Motorcycle racing and dancing top the evening program.

Shetland pony harness racing will be the program highlight on the fair's final day. Throughout the fair Foley & Burk shows will be operating on the grounds, and free vaudeville entertainment will be presented twice daily.

ANN B. DAVIS, star of stage and television, will appear at the Porterville Barn theater for performances on September 18, 19, 25 and 26, appearing with another professional star, Ted Bessel, in a group of one-act plays, "The Typist and the Tiger," written by Murray Schisgal. Miss Davis is shown above with director of the plays, Jim Leighton; both Miss Davis and Leighton are alumni of the Barn theater. Curtain time is 8:15 P.M. on Saturday nights; 7:15 P.M. on Sunday nights. Miss Davis, Bessel and Leighton are donating their time as a Barn benefit.
